

Film Distribution

Syncline films in partnership with PSBT has ventured into online distribution of documentary films. We are in the process of setting up a sales network concentrating on online marketing, to help deliver Indian documentary content to a wider global audience. Through web based stores, collaboration with online video resellers, IPTV channels and DVD distribution, Syncline plans to promote the Indian documentary films.

Currently, we are distributing over 250 Documentary films produced by Public Service Broadcasting Trust (PSBT) and Prasar Bharati (Doordarshan). These are films on a wide variety of subjects from across the sub continent, directed by some of the best film makers. Explore India through PSBT's collection of films which include some award winning titles.

These films can also be purchased online from www.synclinefilmstore.com , a DVD store set up and maintained by Syncline Films.

We are forever keen on acquiring more films, Independent documentary film makers interested in marketing their content through our network are welcome and any Television, IPTV, Online video sales channels looking for good Indian content are also requested to contact us.
